Dr. R. Peterson

Duxbury, Massachusetts

My dear doctor Peterson:

I received your letter and have since prepared the lists of vessels built in Duxbury. I am mailing you the lists plus the extra copy of the article. The cost is fifteen dollars.

I am very much chagrined to learn that I have a book from the Duxbury library. I was sure that it had been returned, but discovered it in a cabinet with some books that are very seldom used.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Ames:

I am having delivered to the library a list of the vessels arranged alphabetically built in Duxbury. I have also given the carbon copy of this list to Mr. Young who is particularly interested in this kind of work.

As you will see by the above letter, the charge for the work is $15.00. Mr. Young thinks that this is a legitimate expense for the library. If you agree with him, I wish you would send a check for $15 to Mr. Huffington.

You will also notice what he says about the library book.

Sincerely yours,

Robert Peterson

VESSELS BUILT IN DUXBURY, MASSACHUSETTS

PREPARED BY

PAUL HUFFINGTON
AND
J. NELSON CLIFFORD

This list is the result of a years study of the early shipbuilding industry in New England. All available records were studied and this list is the most complete that there is for Duxbury. Much care has been used in order to eliminate duplicate vessels from the list. However there still may be a few duplicate vessels in the list. The authors felt it better to retain the doubtful names and perhaps further study will eliminate all duplicates.

Page 14 contains records of the earliest vessels built in Duxbury, for which the name and type of vessel was not available as well as vessels built at later dates whose names were not available.
